Lawhon & Associates, Inc. (L&A) provides full-service environmental and engineering consulting services to the public and private sector. The company was founded in 1985 and attributes its success to providing responsive, client-focused technical expertise through the personal direction of the principals and senior staff. Headquartered in Columbus, L&A also has offices in Cleveland, Dayton and Cincinnati, Ohio.

We understand dealing with environmental challenges can divert time and resources away from your core mission. L&A's engineers and scientists possess the knowledge and experience to identify potential environmental liabilities and prioritize needs and response actions that meet project and stakeholder objectives. Our clients can depend on us to provide accurate, practical and cost-effective solutions—backed by technical credentials and professional certifications relevant to the services we provide.

L&A is a women-owned, small business and a licensed engineering company in the State of Ohio. The firm maintains numerous local and state government DBE certifications.

ENVIRONMENTAL CONSULTING AND ENGINEERING SERVICES

Cultural Resource Management

Lawhon & Associates, Inc. provides cultural resource consulting and compliance services for a broad range of clients. Our team of professionals routinely complete projects of varying size and scope involving the identification of archaeological sites and historic properties, assessment of effects and development and implementation of mitigation measures. Each project is led by a professional who meets or exceeds the U.S. Secretary of the Interior's Professional Qualification Standards in their respective discipline and maintains strong relationships with federal, state and local agencies.

Our goal, and the cornerstone of L&A's business approach, is to be responsive to the needs of our clients. We strive to understand your objectives, so that we can tailor our services and scope to meet your exact project requirements. With over 50 years of combined cultural resource management experience across every sector, we are confident we can help guide our clients through the agency coordination process efficiently and effectively.
