

Principal Investigator, Archaeology

Lawhon and Associates, Inc. is seeking a passionate and experienced archaeologist for our cultural resource practice. The selected individual will be part of a talented team, led by senior cultural resource professionals with the expertise to mentor through each step of technical and professional development. This position will contribute to a variety of projects across a wide range of sectors, in both a technical and deputy project management role. Specific responsibilities will include:

- Cultural Resource Literature Reviews
- Phase I Archaeological Surveys
- Phase I History/Architecture Evaluations
- Phase II Assessments
- Phase III Data Recoveries

This is a full-time position in our Columbus office, with hybrid work flexibility. The role offers a blend of field and office work, which will provide the opportunity to utilize field survey, research, data collection and management, technical reporting, agency coordination and project management skills.

Qualifications

Qualified candidates will possess at a minimum an MA/MS degree in anthropology, history, archaeology, or similar science-related fields and at least five (5) years of relevant experience. SHPO prequalification and ODOT prequalifications in the field of archaeology, as well as field supervision and reporting experience, are desired.

Requirements

The required competencies and skills include:

- Effective communication skills
- Strong analytical and problem-solving capabilities
- Strong technical writing skills
- Ability to manage multiple priorities and meet deadlines
- Knowledge of Microsoft Office products
- Physically capable to work in rough terrain and inclement weather with field gear
- Availability for periodic overnight travel to jobs sites (mainly in Ohio and surrounding states)
- Consultant mindset, including eagerness to learn and grow, willingness to take initiative and a service-oriented approach to assignments
